

Conference will address stalking

3/02/2009 8:07:00 AM

The Central West Women's Health Centre is holding a state-wide conference on stalking in March.

The conference aims to bring experts together to share latest research and expertise with service providers.

It is to raise awareness and understanding about the issue of stalking in the minds of the general public.

Speakers include executive director of the Cyberspace Law and Policy Centre, David Vaile, a solicitor from the Office of the Director of Public Prosecutions, Fiona Gray, Dr Shaunagh Foy - a forensic profiler who will cover the topic of profiling perpetrators and Dr Diane Westerhius, lecturer in Justice Studies at Charles Sturt University will also present on victimology.

Stalking can have a devastating effect of the lives of victims who are subjected to constant harassment at home, in public places and at work.

The Bureau of Crime Statistics Women's Safety Survey (1996) reported 15 per cent of all women over the age of 18 had been stalked by a man at some stage of their life.

It has further been reported that 6.8 per cent of men have been stalked during their lifetime.

The conference goes from 9.30am to 4.30pm at the Bathurst Memorial Entertainment Centre on March 6.

The conference registration fee of $55 includes morning tea, lunch, afternoon tea and a conference pack. Registration inquiries to Central West Women's Health Centre, 20 William Street Bathurst, (02) 6331 4133.
